

Peace Parley
Opens Fourth
Week; Italian
Problems Up

By ROBERT C. WILSON

Paris, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Peace conference went into its fourth week in low gear today as the Italian economic committee became involved in a lengthy discussion of how various chapters of the Italian treaty should be divided between it and the political committee.

Committees for the Finnish and Hungarian treaties also began deliberations.

France touched off the discussion with a suggestion that the economic committee include on its agenda article 72, which sets up a conciliation commission in case of disputes over Italian restitution of allied property.

Explosive Issues
Russia supported the proposal, and Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky said it should be adopted as a general principle that all questions "of a predominantly economic nature" should be considered as falling within the committee's scope.

Brazil, Yugoslavia, the United States, Greece, Belgium and White Russia all joined in the debate, agreeing that practically all chapters of the treaty have both economic and political aspects, and that consultation with the political committee was necessary to establish some line of demarcation.

In the American delegation it was felt that the prolonged period of argument over procedural differences was nearing a conclusion and that within two or three weeks the conference might make sufficient progress to warrant a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers council to consider the work already accomplished.

The agenda for the day included a full program of committee meetings dealing with all phases of the peace treaties. The Italian political and territorial commission, which is charged with settlement of some of the parley's most explosive issues, also was scheduled to meet Monday.

Lull In Violence Today
In Palestine; Bomb Threat

Haifa, Aug. 19 (AP)—A nationwide offensive which three underground Jewish groups were reported preparing today failed to materialize by early evening, and a comparative quiet settled upon a still tense Holy Land after a troubled week-end.

The only unusual incident up to 4 p. m. was another "Operation Scram" at the Jerusalem postoffice which was evacuated for 40 minutes when an anonymous telephone call warned the place was to be bombed. This rapidly was becoming routine in a war of nerves.

A series of "spot identity checks" carried out by the military in Jerusalem in which passersby were stopped at road blocks for examination of their papers gave rise to the report that plans had been intercepted for a coordinated uprising by the Stern gang, Irgun Zvai Leumi and Hagannah.

British army sources denied such a plan had been discovered, however. The general calm since yesterday encouraged some of the moderate Jewish leaders to predict that a corner had been turned in Palestine's

IS HOME FROM WORLD MEETS

Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, returned over the week-end by air from Europe where he attended a series of important conferences with world church and state leaders in Sweden, Finland and England.

The trip home was Doctor Wentz's 17th Atlantic crossing and his third by air. On one trip to Europe, he went around the world and included a Pacific crossing in the journey.

Doctor Wentz, with other Lutheran church leaders including Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, sailed aboard the Swedish liner Gripsholm from New York on July 6 for Sweden.

From Sweden, Doctor Wentz went on to Finland where he spent five days in conference with prominent Lutheran leaders.

Elected To Office
Upon his return to Sweden, Doctor Wentz attended the re-organization meeting of the Lutheran World Federation, formerly the Lutheran World Convention, at Uppsala. During the sessions a new constitution was adopted calling for a permanent full-time secretary. Doctor Wentz was elected as vice president of the Federation and was continued as a member of its executive committee and chairman of the American section.

On July 29, Doctor Wentz flew to England for a series of important conferences, most important of which was a four-day session at Cambridge presided over by John Foster Dulles. Sixty men and women discussed "The Church and International Affairs."

Doctor Wentz said today he is "very enthusiastic" about one important result of that conference—the formation of a commission on "The Church and International Affairs" under the World Council of Churches. The purpose of the new commission will be to keep world statesmen informed about opinion of Christian bodies concerning world affairs and to keep the

'Special Handling' For
Bahamans Ends Here

Borough police have been informed by authorities at the labor camp at Camp Sharpe that farm laborers brought here from the Bahamas are henceforth to be treated by borough police the same as all other persons if they violate any borough or state laws.

Borough police were told this when they contacted camp authorities to inform them that they understood that some laborers from the camp were carrying concealed weapons.

The camp authorities, according to police, had previously claimed jurisdiction over the Bahamans, who are British subjects.

turbulent history and that terrorism might be on the downgrade there. British troops held a rigid cordon around Haifa's port area following yesterday's disorders in which illegal immigrants attempted to scuttle the transport carrying them to Cyprus.

The First Infantry Division mounted guard in this city after the Cyprus-bound transport Empire Heywood returned to Haifa following the unsuccessful attempt to scuttle her yesterday.

The British had used tear gas and fire hoses to drive 640 illegal immigrants from the transport Fenice, on which they arrived here from Europe last week, onto the Empire Heywood for transshipment to a refugee camp being prepared for 10,000 persons on Cyprus. The Empire Heywood finally left port yesterday morning, but returned less than an hour later after two small bombs exploded in her hold.

A British announcement said the bombs caused no damage or casualties, but were "introduced into the hold with the apparent object of blowing a hole in the side of the vessel."

REV. HARRY LEE
RALLY SPEAKER

Approximately 300 persons gathered at Mt. Holly Springs park Saturday night to attend the regular outdoor rural Youth for Christ rally. In spite of the poor weather and the rain which fell intermittently throughout the evening the program was presented as scheduled.

Those participating included the mixed chorus from Chestnut Hill, vocal and instrumental numbers by the Coulson girls of Biglerville, a duet by W. A. Baddorf and daughter, Minerva, of Dillsburg, solos by Douglas Baptist, Dillsburg, and Grace Lee, of York Springs, and testimonies by young people from Carlisle, Grantham and Dillsburg.

Plan Big Rally Sept. 7
It was announced that the speaker for next week's rally will be the Rev. Joseph Miller, of Carlisle.

A huge rally is being planned for September 7, when it is anticipated that at least 2,000 youth will be in attendance. The rallies are scheduled to continue until September 28. Rev. Mr. Lee, Saturday's speaker, has had much experience in youth work, having traveled extensively throughout the United States and Canada in evangelistic work. Much of this work has been in rural areas in Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, although he has also appeared before groups in many of our largest cities.

Here And There
News Collected At Random

Adams county's Welcome
Home Celebration for veterans of World War II on the first anniversary of V-J Day is now history . . . but its memory will linger for many years to come.

Everything about the program was commendable. It was executed with military precision and zero-hour timing. There wasn't a hitch in the day's festivities, except for the premature start of the afternoon ball game. It was explained that the two teams had an evening's engagement which precluded starting the game later than 3 p. m.

But from the opening exercises, the morning church services, the day's events started promptly, moved with clock-like precision to the delight and entertainment of the more than ten thousand people who jammed Gettysburg to participate in the tribute to the men and women from this county who served so honorably during the years.

The committee in charge of the program deserves all the plaudits heaped upon it by grateful veterans and citizens. The entire affair bore all the earmarks of meticulous and painstaking planning, of concerted effort and able guidance.

It is impossible to list the names of those who gave of their time, their efforts and finances to make this grand event the tremendous success that it was. But to Judge W. C. Sheely goes the major portion of credit for his able direction of the many committees which carried out the many details of the day-long program. Each member served with enthusiastic interest, striving to the utmost to make each event a memorable one. That they achieved their objective is evidenced by the countless commendable comments heard on every side.

One of the outstanding highlights of the program was the response of uniformed veterans who marched in the colorful parade. This section of several hundred uniformed men and women drew bursts of applause all along the line of march. There were many tear-dimmed eyes not only among the adults but among the youngsters who were emotionally moved by the patriotic and colorful spectacle of OUR OWN men and women of the armed forces.

The Welcome Home Celebration

was one of the finest county-wide events held in Gettysburg in many years. It proves again that Adams countians can work together in peace as well as in war, and that for a big job, well done, look to Adams county.

In the opinion of this humble reporter such a county-wide celebration should be an annual event. It will grow with the years just as the memory of the first will freshen with the mellowness of age.

Gardners Man Held
In Theft, Stabbing

Harry Bolin, 25, Gardners, was taken into custody by Hanover police Saturday morning shortly after 5 o'clock, when he appeared at the Hanover General hospital and asked treatment for slash wounds of both arms. He was turned over to state police from Mont Alto, who are conducting an investigation.

Hanover police say that Bolin told them that the wounds had been inflicted with a knife by two men, whom he named. The slashing occurred at Mont Alto, he said. Bolin was quoted as telling police that his billfold containing $200 was missing after the fight.

After Bolin had received treatment at the hospital and was taken into custody by borough police, the state police were called in. Police have learned that Bolin was walking along a road near the Mont Alto sanatorium, early Saturday morning, when he attacked a patient from the sanatorium who was walking on the road. The patient, police said, stabbed Bolin in self-defense. The police are holding Bolin and continuing their investigation.

ARMY CAPTAIN, AND COMPANION
FACE CHARGES

Captain James R. Rich, formerly of Dallas, Texas, now stationed at Carlisle Barracks, will have a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder at 8:30 o'clock tonight, on three charges, and a companion, Mrs. Doris Jones, Dallas, will also face three charges following an automobile accident at 8 o'clock Saturday night at South Washington and High streets.

Borough police said Rich is charged with drunken driving, driving without an operator's license and disorderly conduct. Mrs. Jones, who was to be arrested today, will face charges of disorderly conduct, permitting an intoxicated person to drive her automobile, and with illegal possession of a gun.

An automobile, which police said was owned by Mrs. Jones and operated by the army captain, collided with the car of Frederick C. Spalding, Littlestown, Pa., causing damage estimated at $75. When police responded to a call, they said they found Mrs. Jones in the rear seat with her 14-months' old child. Rich was not at the scene of the accident but was apprehended later, police said. He told the officers he had gone to see about the damage to his car.

Held In Jail

Rich is in jail in default of $1,000 bail, on the drunken driving charge. Mrs. Jones' child will be cared for by the Adams County Child Welfare Services, police said.

Police found a loaded 22 calibre pistol on the floor of the automobile when they investigated the accident. They said Mrs. Jones admitted ownership of the gun.

The accident was one of three over the week-end in Gettysburg. Rosa M. L. Stoner, Pen Mar, Md., paid a fine of $10 and costs to Squire Snyder on a charge of failing to yield the right of way after her car had struck the automobile of Jacqueline Banker, York, on Chambersburg street at 6:10 o'clock, Sunday night. The Stoner car pulled away from the curb and caught the right front fender of the Banker car, police said. Total damage was $75.

Police reported that an automobile operated by Lindy L. Shandoltz, Gettysburg R. 2, sideswiped the car of J. B. Parks, Vandergrift, Pa., at 6 o'clock, Sunday night on East Lincoln avenue. No charges were laid. Damage amounted to $35, according to the report.

Lost Wallet And
Cash Are Returned

There are some honest people today.

At least that is the opinion of John Wetzel, Orrtanna R. 1, after having a lost wallet returned to him Saturday with its contents intact.

Wetzel lost his pocketbook, containing $16, driver's license, draft card, etc., on August 4 while attending an outing at a beach south of Baltimore. A woman returned his driver's license to a stand where lost articles were gathered and stated she would return later with the pocketbook. The lady never returned and Wetzel gave up hope of regaining his wallet.

Last week Wetzel received a letter from George Melonas, of 714 South Oldham street, Baltimore, informing him his wife had found his pocketbook and, fearing his money might be taken from the folder, simply returned his license. On Saturday Wetzel's brother, Kermit, who spent the week-end in Baltimore, secured the wallet with everything intact.

The Melonas refused to accept a reward.

State police said he will be charged before Justice of the Peace W. D. Brown, Straban township, with reckless driving.

Police said Clark's car left the road, struck a pole and two trees and rolled over. No other automobile was involved. Damage to his car was estimated at $680. He was taken to the hospital by John Rebert, Gettysburg R. 5, near whose home the accident occurred.

Worst Riots In India's
History Ebb; 2,000 Dead

By DONALD HUTH
Calcutta, Aug. 19 (AP)—Moslems and Hindus killed each other at a slackened pace today in the stinking streets of Calcutta, which in four days have been strewn with 2,000 to 3,000 corpses.

The situation was the quietest since Friday when the rival factions started the most ghastly riots in Calcutta's turbulent history, quarreling over differences regarding the British proffer of independence.

Sporadic shooting continued. Eerie cries rang through the streets. Bodies were piled here and there, many of them dead four days and picked by vultures. Many were bloated. The danger of an epidemic which might dwarf the present number of casualties mounted by the hour.

Several thousands lay wounded. The food situation worsened as stores remained closed.

Looting was rife. Police blotters were filled with accounts of women sadistically raped, mutilated, then butchered or burned with their families. One seven year old rape victim was removed to a hospital in critical condition.

COLLEGE WILL OPEN OCT. 4TH;
DELAY BUILDING
HOUSING UNITS

Gettysburg college will open its fall term on Friday, October 4, it was officially announced this morning by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president.

The college was scheduled to resume its fall sessions on September 19. Postponement of the opening date to October 4 was caused by the delay in the building program to house an additional number of veterans.

The announcement this morning said:

"At a conference with the area chief of the Federal Housing Administration it was learned that the construction of the housing units, for veterans and other students who will be enrolled at the college this fall, will not be completed before October 1. This necessitates postponement of the college opening to October 4. Freshmen will report on October 1 and sessions will begin on October 4."

Increase Enrollment

Some time ago college authorities, cooperating with Governor Edward Martin in an effort to admit more veterans to colleges and universities in Pennsylvania this year, agreed to increase its customary enrollment from 600 to 900 students. The additional 300 students will be veterans.

This action was taken to supplant the proposed establishment of a college at Indiantown Gap. The latter plan was determined to be unfeasible because of the possibility of not securing materials to build buildings and the shortage of instructors. Governor Martin appealed to colleges and universities to increase their enrollment to take care of the increased number of veterans who sought to continue their higher education under the GI Bill of Rights.

Gettysburg college agreed to accept an additional 300 veterans if housing facilities could be obtained. The Federal Housing Administration and the War Department agreed to erect housing units here to take care of the increased enrollment.

Building Delay

The new buildings are being erected along the south side of West Lincoln avenue on the college campus. The ground has been graded and utilities installed in preparation for construction of the new buildings.

However, through circumstances beyond the control of college authorities, some difficulty was encountered in securing materials and the FHA informed the college that it could not have the structures completed before October 1.

In order to conform to the change in completion dates Doctor Hanson changed the date of the opening of the college to October 4.

localities of this sprawling city of 1,250,000 population, although police restored some semblance of order in the eastern and northern sections.

British troops, supported by light tanks and civilian police, patrolled the streets, many of which were clogged with bloated bodies. Some corpses have been lying in the sun since Friday, thus posing a serious health problem and presenting the possibility of an epidemic.

Three carloads of bodies were parked in the middle of Harrison road, one of the centers of the fighting. Some were covered with water from open hydrants. Vultures picked at the remains.

One police official, who said he had witnessed the communal riots of 1918 and 1926, declared that he doubted if India had ever "experienced communal trouble on such a scale before."

Moslem crowds continued to swarm into Hindu Areas, and Hindu crowds into Moslem areas. Damage to property was expected to run into millions of dollars.

INDIA'S FAMOUS NEHRU PLANNING ASIATIC BLOC

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The bloody rioting in Calcutta—outrage of the Moslem league's observation of "direct action day" in protest against the nature of the plan which Britain proposes for Indian independence—has been so terrible with its death-toll of over 1,000 as to obscure a Bombay news dispatch which potentially is incomparably more important.

I refer to a statement by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, famous Hindu president of the politically dominant all-India Congress and likely head of the provisional Indian government which the British plan projects. He is promoting an inter-Asian relations conference which, he declared, when finally organized should unite the east culturally, economically and politically in a powerful bloc.

The Pandit made a highly important addition to this startling declaration. He asserted that India should "develop closer relations with Russia," and expressed the hope that the Russians would participate in the inter-Asian relations conference.

Blocs and Blocs

Now the term "bloc" has become dynamite as a result of European political developments in recent months. Its very mention immediately raises the question of what is happening to the "one world" ideal for which a lot of folk are striving.

Of course there are blocs and blocs. Some are better than others. However, when Nehru proposes an Oriental bloc we inevitably come up against a fear which has stalked the world for generations—the divisions of the globe into two hostile blocs—the east against the west.

One hastens to add that Pandit Nehru hasn't been rattling the sabre. He is a man of high ideals and his Bombay statement contains no suggestion of anything other than a peaceful alignment of nations. It he had limited the objectives of the bloc to cultural and economic interests there might be no debate. However, he says political unity is one of the objects of the bloc—and in that would seem to lie great dangers.

Apprehension isn't lessened when we make a quick calculation of the populations involved. India (400,000,000), China (500,000,000) and European-Asiatic Russia (200,000,000) alone total some half the population of the whole world. When the other oriental countries are added, the east would have the balance of power in numbers.

Worst Riots

houses—even small children—were killed in a group, and the houses set afire.

The rioting grew out of differences between the Moslems and Hindus on the British proposal for Indian independence. Mahomed Ali Jinnah, president of the Moslem league, said in Bombay yesterday that the predominantly Hindu congress party had offered the league five of the 14 seats in the cabinet of the proposed interim government, and that it "is obvious I could not possibly accept."

Jinnah said it was "inconceivable" that British Prime Minister Attlee would allow the congress party "to be installed in power on its own terms by the British government to rule Moslems and minorities with the help of British blood and treasure."

Countians Home From Trip To DeKalb, Ill.

Roy A. Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4, and J. K. Mansberger, York Springs, returned Saturday from a trip to DeKalb, Ill., where they visited the big corn breeding projects of the DeKalb Agricultural association.

The countians saw the work of inbreeding and crossing over 7,000 different kinds of corn under test by the association. This year's research work there involved 41,000 hand pollinations in the development of new hybrids. In addition to using strains of corn originated in the United States, varieties have been brought in from Italy, Czechoslovakia, Japan and Rumania.

The men also visited the association's poultry project where research men are working to develop improved kinds of poultry by using breeding methods which have been successful in the corn experiments.

churches of the world informed about the plans and purposes of the statesmen to guide world affairs.

Aid World Decisions

Doctor Wentz today hailed the commission plan as a practical step toward making Christian opinion felt in world affairs. "We talk a great deal about vague generalities that involve Christ's church in world affairs but now there will be an opportunity for Christian opinion to come to bear on world decisions before it is too late," he asserted.

The commission will maintain secretaries in England and America, including a representative at the United Nations capital.

Doctor Wentz declared that Chairman Dulles, for whom he has a high personal regard, asserted at the session that statesmen are eager to know the will of the Christian people of the world as a guide in making their important decisions.

Plan Assembly Sessions

The local seminary president also attended the Study Commission of the World Council of Churches at Cambridge along with 25 other world scholars. That group is to prepare a four-volume work which will come off the press next year to give direction to the First World Council to be held in Holland in 1948.

Then Doctor Wentz went to St. Julians, on the other side of London, where for a week he helped a committee of the World Council plan its first assembly session to be held in August, 1948.

Doctor Wentz left England by air last Thursday at 7 p. m. and was due in New York at 9 a. m. Friday. Strong headwinds, and motor trouble off Newfoundland, delayed him until 1 p. m. Friday. He reached Gettysburg Friday night.

Penn State Coach Praises His Ends

State College, Pa., Aug. 19 (P)—Football Coach Bob Higgins of Penn State and a former All-American end, admitted to a personal prejudice today as he singled out his end candidates for special praise.

"They're big and strong and they handle themselves well," Higgins said as the Penn State squad moved into its first week of pre-season drills. Eight candidates, all with varsity experience, are competing for the end positions. Among them is John Potosian of Hiller, Pa.

SCHOOL GRID TEAMS START FALL PRACTICE

Harrisburg, Aug. 19 (P)—The 1946 scholastic football season gets under way in Pennsylvania today when most of the coaches start practice sessions at camps or on home playing fields.

The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association, ruling body of scholastic sport in this state, set August 18 as the opening date for gridiron activity, apparently ignoring the fact it fell on Sunday.

The PIAA also ruled that no team could engage another rival until the third Friday after practice starts, which means that the annual Labor Day games in the northwestern corner of the state are banned and the first sanctioned games will take place on September 6.

Nine Are Unbeaten
Nine of the commonwealth's leading school boys eleven swing into the new campaign with unbeaten records, and several smaller teams hope to keep intact unsmirched records set in 1945. The nine leaders and the streaks are:

Kulpmont high, Eastern Conference champion, with a record of 22 straight after turning back Larksville for the title, 12 to 7.

Donora high, winner of the WPIAL crown for the second straight year, with a two-year streak of 19.

Bedford high, runner-up in the western conference, with a two year streak of 15 straight.

Huntingdon high, western conference champions, after taking 12 straight.

Williamsport, runner-up to Allentown in the now disbanded big fifteen conference, with an unbeaten string of 11 and Curwensville, another western conference contender, with an unbeaten, ten game season in 1945.

Milton, unbeaten Susquehanna Valley League champions; Waynesburg, with an unblemished record in the southwest; and Northampton, champions of the Lehigh Valley, complete the list of major teams intent on adding to winning records.

Camp Plans Made
Several teams are going to camp tomorrow, or later in the week, with Charleroi high arranging to workout at the Clearfield driving park, where Clearfield high will train. The two coaches believe that the combined camp will be of great benefit to both squads.

Chambersburg high is moving across the state line to camp Ritchie, in Maryland, where the squad will be quartered at the officers' quarters; Lebanon returns to camp Greble; Oil City will have a camp near Cambridge Springs; Hanover goes to Abbottstown; Waynesboro to Roundsville; and Elizabethtown to Laurel Lake.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
Although it took most of the season to do it, the Williamsport Grays finally recorded a victory over the Scranton Miners in Eastern league play.

The seventh-place Grays won the second game of a double-header yesterday, 4-2, after Scranton won the opener, 8-2.

The Elmira Pioneers captured both ends of a doubleheader to move into fourth place in the league standings by downing Wilkes-Barre, 4 to 3 and 7 to 0.

Hartford and Binghamton divided a twin bill as the Chiefs took the first game, 7-4, and the Triplets recaptured in the second for a 4-3 win.

Utica nipped Albany, 2-1, in the opening contest but the second-place Senators came back in the after-piece with a 4 to 0 triumph.

Today's games: Utica at Albany; Binghamton at Hartford; Scranton at Williamsport, and Wilkes-Barre at Elmira, (2).

Medwick Is Hit By Philly Pitcher

Brooklyn, Aug. 19 (P)—Brooklyn's Joe Medwick was beamed by Southpaw Frank Horst of the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday and taken from the field on a stretcher.

It was the second time in Medwick's career as a Dodger that he was hit on the head by a pitched ball. He was taken to a hospital for X-ray examination.

MAJOR LEAGUES MAY ATTAIN 20 MILLION GOAL

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The major leagues already have drawn 14,500,000 cash customers, with six weeks of the season still remaining.

Already three and a half million past their previous record attendance, the majors should have no trouble reaching 18 million, and with good weather may yet approach their twenty million goal.

Three teams—the Chicago Cubs, New York Giants and Red Sox—scored past the million mark over the weekend to boost the million membership club to six—another record. The others are the New York Yankees, Detroit Tigers and Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Red Sox' second largest crowd of the season—33,437 paying fans—saw the league leaders come from behind in the second game to defeat the runner-up New York Yankees 4-3 and earn a split in their double header. The Yankees, behind Floyd Bevens' six-hit pitching, won the opener 5-0. The split left the Yanks still 14 games behind.

Detroit Loses Twice
The third place Tigers disappointed their largest cash crowd in Detroit's history—57,235 fans—by losing both ends of a double header to the seventh place St. Louis Browns 4-3 and 6-5.

Dick Sisler, son of the Immortal George, former star first baseman of the Browns, sparked the Cardinals to two victories over the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2 and 2-0. The twin triumph enabled the runner-up Redbirds to whittle the National league-leading Dodgers' margin to two games, although the Brooks defeated the Phillies 3-2.

Paul Erickson pitched a one-hitter as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-0.

The New York Giants defeated Boston in the opener 8-5 but the Braves won the second game 7-1.

After losing the first game to Chicago, 6-4 in 11 innings, the Cleveland Indians came back with two big innings to walk off with the nightcap 13-3.

Held to six hits and shut out by Philadelphia's Jesse Flores in the first game, 11-0, the Washington Senators bounced back to win the second game 6-4.

Montgomery Meets
Wes Mouzon Tonight

Philadelphia, Aug. 19 (P)—Bob Montgomery, holder of the New York-Pennsylvania version of the lightweight title, hopes his native Philadelphia luck holds up tonight.

The hard-punching Negro has never been beaten by a Philadelphia opponent—and he figures to keep the string intact tonight when he tangles with Wesley Mouzon in a 12-round bout at Shibe Park.

Montgomery is a 2-1 favorite, but Mouzon is expected to dish out more leather than the 27-year-old Bobcat—usually a slow starter—has seen in quite a spell.

Montgomery's title is not at stake. Mouzon, only 19, is expected to give Montgomery a battle. The experts figure that the Bobcat will either knock out his fellow townsman or else Mouzon may surprise and outpoint Montgomery.

Nelson And Hogan
Lose Dream Match

Portland, Ore., Aug. 19 (P)—"There will be a new champion crowned this week. It might be somebody who has won it before—but it won't be me."

So declared weary Byron Nelson, defending champion from Toledo, O., and Enton, Tex., as a field of some 130 of the nation's best professional golfers teed off today in quest of the 28th annual PGA title.

Nelson and little Ben Hogan had just lost the "Texas Against the World" dream match to U. S. Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum and British Open Champ Sam Snead, 2 and 1, while 5,000 spectators looked on.

Mangrum and Hogan shared scoring honors. Mangrum had a 32-35—67 and Hogan also was five under par with a 34-33—67. Nelson was credited with a pair of 34's for a 68, and Snead took a pair of 35's for a 70.

Robson Is Winner
At Williams Grove

Williams Grove, Pa., Aug. 19 (P)—George Robson, of Maywood, Calif., has added the Williams Grove Speedway feature event to his long list of auto racing triumphs.

The winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile race, and more recently champion at Columbus, O., and Langhorne, flashed in front of Emil Andres of Chicago yesterday to win the 30-lap, 15-mile event on the Cumberland county track.

Third place went to Tommy Mattson, of Philadelphia.

RAIN POSTPONES RACE
Reading, Pa., Aug. 19 (P)—Rain forced postponement of the 150-lap national championship stock car race on the Reading Fair ground half-mile track until August 25. Promoter Sam Nunis canceled yesterday's program because of bad weather.

Only four teams saw action in the interstate league yesterday, but not one made any headway in the standings.

Wilmington's Blue Rocks, leading the loop by nine games, split with last-place Lancaster. The Red Roses sneaked through with a 12-11 decision in the opener, but Wilmington evened the count in the nightcap, 13-6.

York and Trenton also divided a twin bill. York took the 13-inning opener 6 to 4, but Trenton won the second 8 to 7.

Other games were postponed because of rain.

Boston Announces Series Ticket Plans

Boston, Aug. 19 (P)—The Red Sox today announced a three point program for world series games in Boston—should they win the pennant, they say.

Two tickets for one game only to each applicant.

Each application must be accompanied by certified check or a money order.

And the third point, which General Manager Eddie Collins emphasized, "no applications will be received until the pennant is won."

At ten o'clock a. m., the members of the order, nearly 200 strong, met at the new school building and forming in procession, with full regalia, marched to the grove. At the grove in front of the temporary stand were seats for from 500 to 600 persons; and close by extensive refreshment tables loaded with substantial fare. . . . Very wisely the ladies served up good pure water as the only beverage, everything in the shape of liquor being excluded.

Today's Talk

OUR DEBT TO OTHERS

The Apostle Paul recognized his indebtedness to "both the Greeks and the Barbarians." We think we have paid all when we have bought something and paid for it. But there are intangible debts, by the score, that we all owe!

How can we ever repay the ones who have made the automobile, the radio, the telephone, the electric light, and an endless number of things for our pleasure and convenience? Do we ever think of the thousands of workmen involved in their manufacture and completion? To them, also we owe a debt of gratitude.

We owe a debt to every great writer and thinker, to every inventor, to every discoverer, to every scientist, to every composer of great songs and music—but why continue the list? Everything that we touch contains the contribution of some one, or many.

No son, or daughter, can ever adequately repay the love and devotion of a great mother or father, and to every force and inhabitant of Nature, we also owe a debt, for by them we are fed materially and spiritually.

The manufacturer is dependent upon his workers to whom he owes far more than he can ever pay them in wages, and this is true in all business. On the other hand, the worker takes home far more than his pay in the envelope. He takes home experience, good will, and the satisfaction that he has contributed to the welfare of many.

The sacrifices of war can never be paid. Each one of us is poorer for the loss of every boy in battle. He paid all that he had and was. We remain the debtors. Service is something that can never be wholly paid in money. Can you put a price upon a kind word, or a generous act? The poorest human being often has something to give that the richest could not buy.

We can be better human beings, better workers, better citizens, and better friends, if we keep constantly in mind that we are in debt to others, and that we ought to pay at least a part of this debt while yet we have time. Not in material things, but out of ourselves.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Master Of Simple Beauty"

RIGHT GIRL

Some maidens are witty, some witty and pretty.

Some dance with remarkable grace;

Some sing to delight us, and others recite us

Sad ballads with gestures in place.

Some go in for swimming, some do bonnet trimming;

Some angle for trout in a brook;

But, pretty or clever, my choice is forever

The one who has learned how to cook.

Some maidens are nimble, some good with the thimble,

And some are devoted to art;

Some brilliant with knowledge they learned at a college;

Some maidens in business are smart.

There are maidens attractive, athletic and active,

And girls with that "come hither" look.

Some maidens have money. Watch out for them, sonny.

Make sure that the richest can cook.

Some maidens are slender; some plump, but still tender;

There are girls over-bold or too shy.

Some maidens have dimples, and some wearing wimples

Get whistled at when they go by.

But hear me, young fellow, red-haired, black or yellow,

'Tis lucky you'll be if you hook

The maiden to live with, to give and forgive with,

Whose mother has taught her to cook.

U.S. Probing Klan In Seven States; Plan Wider Inquiry

By BRACK CURRY

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Justice Department has announced it is investigating reports of revival of Ku Klux Klan activity in seven states. There are indications it will spread its inquiry over at least three more states.

The national KKK broke up or at least went underground in 1944, when the federal government sued it for delinquent taxes. Various state Klans continued, however. The Justice Department's civil rights section wants to know whether any of them are violating federal laws. Officials say frankly they expect an upsurge of Klan activity.

Attorney General Clark said in a speech at Philadelphia that "no quarter will be shown" if violations of federal law are uncovered. The seven states where investigations are under way are Georgia, Florida, Michigan, New York, California, Tennessee and Mississippi.

The Associated Press asked its correspondent to interview state officials and acknowledged Klan officials in order to form a picture of the status of the Klan in those states.

Governor Is Surprised

Tennessee's Governor Jim Mc Cord told the AP Nashville correspondent that "so far as I know, there is no Klan operating in Tennessee." The correspondent reported he could uncover no evidence in a statewide check of any provable Klan activity. The Klan is not incorporated in Tennessee.

Acting Governor Fiedling Wright of Mississippi expressed surprise at his state's being mentioned. He said the Klan was inactive there, and an AP check of other sources failed to disclose any traces. The Klan is not incorporated in Mississippi either.

Far more evidence was available in the other five states. The reports of correspondents there will appear in this newspaper on succeeding days this week.

One of the other states in which it is possible the Justice Department will investigate may be Kentucky.

The state's attorney general, Eldon S. Dummit, recently filed a suit to revoke the Klan's state charter. Afterwards he told reporters he had received 50-odd letters, many attacking his motives in filing the suit.

Linked To Bund

"I am wondering just how well organized it is in Ky," he said, "or whether these letters really indicate sympathy for it."

"I wish there was some way a checkup could be made."

Here are some recent incidents bearing on the Klan question.

1. A statewide gathering of Georgia delegates from the CIO Textile Workers' Union of America charged that the Klan "has beaten and killed labor organizers, wrecked union halls and acted as vigilante groups in times of strikes."

2. Georgia's Assistant Attorney General Daniel Duke said at a news conference he had found photographs and literature establishing links between the German-American Bund and Klansmen before the war.

3. The American Federation of Labor has charged that four masked men representing themselves as Klansmen kidnaped and beat a Georgia Negro when he refused to quit a union.

4. The Justice Department is studying a complaint that the Klan cooperated with certain local officials in a Florida city to prevent Negroes from moving into a housing project.

How U. S. Can Act

5. Another complaint being investigated alleges that a group of hooded men warned Negroes in a Georgia county against voting.

How can the federal government act?

The Justice Department says violations of the federal election laws or of two civil rights statutes would permit federal prosecution.

One of the civil rights statutes makes it illegal to conspire to deprive a person of his civil rights. Another makes it a federal offense for a state official to use his office to deprive an individual of federal rights guaranteed by the constitution.

The department says any evidence involving violations of state laws will be turned over to state officials. Duke claims the Klan is operating in many states through "front" organizations such as veterans' and women's groups.

Justice Department officials say the Klan is being stimulated in part by what they call "the aftermaths of war" such as congested living conditions and the dislocation of populations. They add the factor of Negro voting in the south.

Lace Bugs Will

Attack Aster Plants

Lace bugs, which are well known to gardeners having azaleas, are not restricted to that plant. They attack many other kinds, including hardy asters, which they will injure seriously if not controlled. Nicotine sulphate will give effective control if the spray is directed especially against the under side of the leaves, where the pest congregates. Several applications may be needed to clean them up.

SUMMER CARE OF SHADE TREES

Every broken limb and every other type of external wound which penetrates to the inner bark or cambium layer of a shade tree is a potential threat to the tree's survival. Proof that neglected wounds lead to a tree's serious injury or death is seen by observing older specimens along any street, in public parks or the home grounds of private residences. Too much emphasis cannot be placed on the necessity of prompt treatment of tree wounds, particularly at this time of the year.

Shade trees are valuable assets. They contribute much to mankind's comfort and pleasure in addition to the beauty they impart to everyday surroundings. But they demand attention, attention to ward off the dangers which constantly assail them. One of the chief menaces to a tree's health and well being is decay. In fact, it is to prevent decay from entering and destroying the tree's parts that most cultural practices are directly aimed.

The best and safest way to safeguard a tree is to attend each wound, regardless of how minor it may appear, as soon as it occurs. Fortunately for owners, this is not a complex or expensive task. But on the other hand, if a wound, even small and insignificant at first, is allowed to remain untreated, it may ultimately lead to the tree's permanent disfigurement or death.

There are three main types of tree wounds requiring careful attention: (1) Broken limbs, including split crotches; (2) Pruning stubs, and (3) Broken abrasions. In each of these it is urgent to consider the wound as a surgeon looks on a wound of the human body.

Of course, broken limbs should be trimmed back, while split crotches should be prevented so far as possible and the splits treated as other wounds after they occur. In many cases the advice and services of a reputable tree surgeon should be sought to prevent valuable trees from splitting by installing suitable supporting cables and braces.

Pruning stubs are by far the most serious and widespread cause of tree

BLOOMS WILL SURVIVE COLD TEMPERATURES

The Siberian wallflower (Cheiranthus allioni) is a colorful biennial seldom seen in our gardens. This may be due partly to the fact that few gardeners are aware of the correct sowing time. If sown in the last week of August, the seedling will show up quickly, as they like cool night temperatures. Fresh seed will be up within a week or ten days, and additional growth proceeds slowly until the plants are about three or four inches high by the time winter sets in.

In the mean time, however, the plants must be guarded against slugs and snails, which are fond of the tender roots and will clean up a long row within a night or two. These pests are night feeders, hiding under rubbish or leaves during the daytime. Fortunately, they are not difficult to control with slug and snail bait, which is available at most dealers in garden supplies. Sprinkle the bait lightly over the soil surrounding the plants as evening approaches. Some baits also control sowbugs, which are equally destructive to the seedlings. Repeat the applications if the bait becomes wet.

Are Used To Cold

There need be no fear that the plants will succumb to our winter temperatures, because they are native to sections where below-zero temperatures are the rule. Snow-free weather, however, has its hazards, and for that reason it is well to shade the bed or row with a light layer of evergreen boughs to keep off sun and reduce alternate freezing and thawing to a minimum.

With the approach of spring the plants will take on new life. The grayish-green leaves will turn bright green, and new shoots will appear. When May comes around they will stand about a foot high, with the buds opening into snowy four-petaled flowers of a glossy deep golden-orange color not found in any other hardy plant blooming in that season.

losses. After years of repeated warnings, most tree owners still leave stubs when they remove an unwanted or dead branch. Yet, simple observations amply prove that Nature cannot heal over a stub. Eventually a stub introduces decay into the parent body. Safety lies in this simple yet essential operation: Make the cut close to and parallel with the parent body. Such a wound will, of course, be larger, but it is a wound which can heal over naturally and rapidly.

Then, too, pruning wounds, wounds left after broken limbs and split crotches are mended, and bark abrasions call for immediate and special treatment. And again, the human surgeon must be imitated. First, clean out all foreign matter by washing and scraping. Then disinfect. And finally, seal.

Trim the edges of all torn and ragged bark. Coat the bark edge and cambium layer with shellac. Disinfect the entire wound and at last coat the wound with a good tree wound dressing. In other words, remove decay organisms and then seal the wound so others cannot gain entrance. This is safety for shade trees, a safety which should be provided before winter for all wounds left from spring and summer accidents.

The editor urges readers to write him to ask all the questions they desire on these subjects.

Lettuce seed germinates best in a soil temperature of 60 to 65 degrees. If necessary to sow when temperatures are higher, place the seed between moist cloths and store for several days on ice. Dry the surface of the seed before sowing.

Forget-Me-Nots Good Background

Forget-me-nots are splendid companion plants for tulips and other bulbs blooming during the spring. They form an attractive background and continue blooming long after one at weekly intervals.

Place your order for spring-flowering bulbs.

Pick all faded flowers before the plants have a chance to form seeds. Go over the garden daily, staking and tying any plants in danger of being blown over.

the bulbs have finished their display. To have them in bloom during the tulip season seed of them should be sown in August, preferably in a coldframe to encourage prompt germination and add another week or two to the fall growing season. Do not coddle them during the winter because they are perfectly hardy if the soil is well drained. Transplant to their position between the bulbs early next spring.

During the oil industry's 87-year history, additions to the nation's proved reserves have usually run ahead of production.

WORLD CHAMPION PRODUCER

Milked with McCormick-Deering Milker

1,409 pounds of butterfat in one year, from 27,745 pounds of 5.08% milk. That's the record that won the title of world champion producer for Alcarra Gerben, five-year-old purebred Holstein owned by Hays Ltd., Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

"Alcarra Gerben has been milked with a McCormick-Deering Milker for 10 months of her record-shattering performance," says Harry Hays, president of Hays Ltd., "and, as far as we know, this is the first time a record has been made by a cow milked with a milking machine. . . . We have been using a McCormick-Deering Milker for our herd of purebred Holsteins for the last seven years and have been well satisfied with its service and performance."

Ask us how a McCormick-Deering Milker and a program of Managed Milking can help you get the maximum production from your dairy herd.

Someone To Believe In

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 29

"I don't want you mixed up in this, Greer."

"You can't stop me now, Rocky."

It was early and the club was not crowded; but the few patrons who were there were standing goggle-eyed near the cigar counter. Morica and Nicholas stood before the officers. The dancer's small, vivid face was full of terror; but when she saw Rocky enter the tenseness relaxed and a smile appeared. The man known as Nicholas stood sullenly twirling a key chain in long, yellow fingers.

Morica flew at Rocky. "Darling, I knew you'd come! These flatfoot coppers—!" She stopped at the stern, harsh look on his face and one of the officers stepped forward.

"You were right, Mr. Alverson. We took a chance on the things you told us and found a flourishing racket. You won't be bothered again!"

Morica turned to Rocky, amazement giving away to blinding fury. She was like a little cat, spitting and biting. "You turned me in! Why, you—vile so-and-so! When we were childhood friends!"

"I told you I would, Morica. I warned you you'd have to stop this racket. You wouldn't listen. And so it had to be stopped another way. I would—and have—protected you in a lot of things, Morica, but this time you've written your own ticket. I'm sorry it had to be that way!"

And he was sorry, Greer could see that in his shadowed eyes, the nervous trembling of his hands. It was not like Rocky Alverson to turn down anyone who had ever been his friend. But this was something he couldn't stomach.

Greer watched him, her heart welling up within her, the hot tears close behind her eyelids. Rocky—my darling!

The officers were speaking to Rocky. "You'll have to come down to headquarters with us for a few moments, Mr. Alverson. It won't take long."

"Okay!" He turned to Greer, saw her shining eyes, saw her try to speak and fail. "Take my car and go on home, Greer," he said softly. "I'll see you later."

"Rocky, I—"

He pressed her hands hard. "Save it. I won't be long."

She drove slowly back to town, filled with the wonder of the thought that Rocky was going to forgive her for all the things she had been so wrong about. She had let the town gossip build up a picture in her mind that wasn't the real Rocky at all. The tears were wet on her cheeks.

She parked the car and went up to her apartment. She'd wait for him all night if necessary. But as she opened the door the telephone was ringing furiously.

Harriet's voice came to her over the wire. She sounded hysterical. "Greer, can you come over at once? Isobel's disappeared! She just isn't here!"

"But Harriet, I—" Rocky would come and she would be gone. She just couldn't miss seeing him, talking to him tonight.

But Harriet's voice was urgent. "Greer, you've just got to come—"

"I'll be there in a few moments," Greer said wearily.

She'd use Rocky's car. And where on earth could Isobel be? Damn the girl, anyway! Always before she'd have thought Isobel might be with Rocky, but it was certain that wasn't the case tonight!

When she reached Harriet's apartment, she found Stephen there already. As Greer entered she saw that he had his arm around his wife and that Harriet held a telegram in her hand. Harriet was calm now, but wearing a look of complete bewilderment.

"Hello, Stephen. Darling, what is it? What's happened? Is Isobel—?"

Without a word Harriet handed Greer the telegram and Stephen said with a grin, "Read it, Greer. It answers a lot of questions."

The words leaped out at Greer. "Mother, forgive me, Buzzy Barton and I were married early tonight. We love each other very much. We'll return home in a few days. Love, Isobel."

Greer and Harriet stared at each other for a long moment. "Buzzy Barton!" Greer breathed finally.

"And that wretch of a Rocky Alverson has been egging the whole thing on—knowing I'd never have let her see him, thinking her too young for romance—"

Stephen laughed. "Forgetting, of course, Harriet, that you married me at the ripe old age of eighteen!"

Harriet sighed. "We all got together this afternoon as you suggested, Greer, and planned a perfectly wonderful trip. I thought Isobel didn't seem wildly enthusiastic about it, though she listened politely enough—Well, I guess that's all off now!"

Stephen said, "But why, Harriet?"

After all, when a man and his wife are reconciled, shouldn't it call for a second honeymoon?"

Harriet's eyes met his. "You mean—you'd want—?"

Stephen drew her to him. "What I want has nothing to do with Isobel, Harriet! Shall we try life together again—just the two of us."

"Oh, Stephen!"

Greer laughed. "And this looks to me like a good place for me to make an exit! I'll run along now—"

Stephen held out his hand. "Greer, I know and appreciate what you've done for us—"

She pressed his fingers and kissed Harriet. "Then I'll say, 'God bless you, my children!'"

She was out once more in the street, free now to go home and wait for Rocky. Suppose he'd already come and gone! She stepped on the gas hard. She raced up the stairs two at a time, found that in her excitement she had left the door unlocked. Opening it hurriedly she stood transfixed in the doorway.

Veteran Canadian

Loses Tennis Title

Erie, Pa., Aug. 19 (AP)—Harold Burrows, Charlottesville, Va., scored the most decisive victory in the men's singles of the Great Lakes tennis classic since its inauguration in 1905 by beating Gordon Robinson of Stamford, Ont., 6-3, 6-2, and 6-0 yesterday.

Burrows, 22-year-old Virginia university plebe, raced through the week-long tourney with the loss of only one set, then picked up 91 points against 50 in the three sets against the veteran Canadian, thrice-winner of the title.

In the all-Buffalo women's finals, Mrs. Gertrude Raszeja defeated Mrs. Dorothy Millard, 7-5, 2-6, and 10-8. Mrs. Millard had match point in the 16th game of the deciding set but Mrs. Raszeja pulled the game out of the hole and went on to win the next two.

APT PUPIL

Chicago, (P)—Mrs. Louis Knake, 22, caught on to the game of bowling, under her husband's tutelage, so well that soon she was beating him. He didn't like that, Mrs. Kane told Judge Charles A. Williams, and walked out on her. She was granted a divorce on grounds of desertion.

DOGS

To some people dogs are just a nuisance to others (and this class is larger than the first) dogs are real friends—showing real devotion whether the going is good or bad—they stick in all emergencies—when you are ill tempered the pup just waits for a change of heart, but he sticks.

TRUMAN PAUSES

IN SEA CRUISE

TO SCAN MAIL

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Quonset Point, R. I., Aug. 19 (P)—President Truman tarried awhile in this New England Naval Air station today to thumb through White House correspondence and greet official callers.

He described the scheduled visit of Gov. John O. Pastore and Solicitor General J. Howard McGrath as strictly a friendly call without political significance.

The President, tanned by sun and sea winds, docked here yesterday aboard the U.S.S. Williamsburg after a leisurely cruise from Washington.

Talking with reporters, he refused to be drawn into any discussion of either politics or affairs of state, emphasizing that this is simply a summer vacation cruise and nothing more.

Bristles At Reporter

He bristled when a New England reporter asked if significance could be attached to his "failure to invite" Senator Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) to call tomorrow.

Senator Green, he said, is one of the best friends he has in the world.

He added, too, that he had invited nobody, since he was concerned solely with the enjoyment of his 18-day vacation. He planned to exchange official greetings with the governor, and McGrath, a former governor.

McGrath, incidentally, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Senator, for the seat being voluntarily relinquished by Senator Peter Gerry (D-RI). Green's term does not expire until 1948.

Wants To Reduce

While Mr. Truman planned to pass on any urgent matters contained in the White House mail pouch flown here yesterday, Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the chief executive would keep work "to a minimum."

Mr. Truman's main concern is to Trim a few more pounds off his 172-pound figure.

In this connection, he cleared up a little confusion in the mind of Press Secretary Ross about his eating habits aboard the yacht Williamsburg since leaving Washington Friday afternoon.

Ross thought the President had fudged a bit on his diet, due to the sea air and tempting navy chow.

Col. Wallace Graham, presidential physician, said no, and the President supported him. Ross, confronted with unassailable evidence, gave in.

U.S. ROYAL!

You get all the features that have long made the name "U.S. Royal" famous—plus the advantage of special rayon cord construction* to make your driving extra safe, trouble-free and luxurious.

Nine years ago when "U.S." first marketed a rayon cord tire it was proven that although rayon-built tires are lighter, they are also stronger and safer.

That's because this super-strength rayon "U.S." uses, runs many degrees cooler... cuts down destructive inner heat... adds thousands of miles to tire life... and gives you far greater protection against blow-outs.

And of course in this newest U.S. Royal you get many other safety features, too—the famous Royal block tread for smooth riding—perfect balance for easy steering and parking.

The fact is that U.S. Royals are every bit as modern as the fine cars on which they are standard equipment—every bit as fine as the quality name they've built up over the last thirty years—every bit as good value for your money as U.S. Royals have always been.
